GALA DAY AT THE LAKE.

Judge Haass Dedicates Historical Marker Commemorating Mormon Settlement.

The Catholic bazaar and weiner roast Sunday and the dances Saturday and Sunday nights at Fred's Dam Place at the Dam, for the benefit of the little Catholic church at the Medina Lake, brought pleasure-seekers far and near. The manager, Mr. Fred Christilles, expressed himself well pleased with the results and the church benefitted substantially from the proceeds.

Music for the dances was furnished by the Rambling Cowboys, the popular WOA! radio artists, and Sunday was enlivened by their songs and instrumental concerts throughout the day.

A noteworthy feature of the day was the dedication of a historical marker at the east end of the dam.
This marker was donated for the purpose in 1936, by the Advisory Board of Historians, Commission of Control, Texas Centennial Celebrations, Walter F. Woodul, chairman, and is a durable copper plaque, bearing the following inscription:

Before this dam was built
there existed above this site
a settlement known as Mountain Valley
Established in 1854
by 16 families of Mormons
under the leadership of Lyman Wight (1796-1858)
They abandoned their homes and mills in 1858
as the result of Indian depredations
Their lands are now beneath the waters of Medina Lake

Before an interested crowd standing on the crest of the massive dam, facing northwestward across the blue waters of the vast lake, beneath which lies buried forever, some eight or ten miles above the dam, the last remnants of what was once the happy settlement of Mountain Valley, Judge Haass reviewed briefly the history of the settlement and appropriately dedicated this memento to the memory of this little body of devout men and courageous women.

From his remarks we condense the following:

In 1839 a Mormon colony left Narrows, Illinois, came to Texas, first located near Austin, then near Fred-ricksburg, to Mason County and finally to Bandera County. Col.
Lyman Wight, their leader, settled in March 1, 1854, and located their homes about twelve miles south of Bandera on Survey 21, granted to Dolores Gava, on Bandera County side on East side of Medina Valley river, which they called Mountain Valley, but was known locally as Mormon Camp. Here they remained about four years, erected their houses, a saw mill; they cut cypress, hackberry, and elm for lumber, made shingles and furniture which they sold in San Antonio. They also had a grist mill for corn meal. I was told by Mr. George Hay, one of the last survivors of the colony, that they furnished the heavy timbers, rafters and shingles for the first or old Catholic church building in Old D'Hanis, hauling them by oxcams across the country with no roads, only guides on horseback leading the way. Elder Lyman Wight was born May 9, 1796, and died March 1858
while on a trip to San Antonio. After his death his people scattered,
some going to Utah, some back to Missouri and Illinois, while some stayed at Bandera. Elder Wight was buried in the old settlement Zodiak near Fredericksburg in the old burying ground.

Among the historical facts given by Judge Haass, we quote the following, a portion of a letter written by Lyman Wight, dated April 3, 1856, to his nephew, Benjamin Wight, who was in New York:

"We are placed in a valley between several lofty mountains on a beautiful prairie bottom, the Medina River a stream a trifle smaller than the Genesee River, runs within 30 steps of our doors, our houses are placed at a proper distance apart in two straight rows, our gardens lying between which makes it very pleasant; we have mechanics of almost all descriptions; we make bedsteads and chairs in large quantities and they sell as well as the finest quality of work brought from the East. We sent off 130 chairs and eight or ten bedsteads yesterday and can send as many more in three weeks. We send them 16 miles and get $1 apiece for them by the thousand. We have a good horse mill to grind for ourselves and neighbors; we have a blacksmith and whitesmith. We raise our own cotton and make our own mills to spin it on, and with all we have a share of farmers. We have not measured our corn field, but we had 10 hands covering with the plow
from the 19th of March to the 27th.
In consequence of the severe cold winter we are three weeks later than common, still our corn is mostly up and growing finely. We have lettuce and in a few days will have radishes. No doubt you will think we are well situated and so we are temporarily."

The data for the plaque was compiled by Judge Haass for the Board of Historians and it was met and proper that he should deliver the dedicatory address honoring the pioneers whose memory it perpetuates.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

"But now I go my way to Him that sent Me; and none of you asketh Me. Whither goest Thou? But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.
Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away;
for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send Him unto you."
John 16, 5-7.

So the Christian Church has found it wise that our Master did not remain on earth, but ascended to His Father and to our Father. Christ brought heaven to earth with Him;
now He would bring earth to heaven for Himself. He gave Himself a ransom; now He would gather the Redeemed. By descending Jesus wove a perfect pattern of righteousness for men; by ascending He has proved Himself worthy of the place of power with the Father and can robe His followers with a righteousness worthy of heaven. Ascension has been and should still be an outstanding event in the calendar of the Christian Church. We shall observe it with a special service on Thursday night, May 6, at 8:00 P. M.

Sunday, May 2, English service at 10:30 A. M. Sunday school and Bible Class at 9:00 A. M. May 9,
Mother's Day service at 10:30 A. M.
May 16, Pentecost, English service with Holy Communion at 10:30 A. M.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. F. R. Grube on Wednesday, May 5, at 2:30 P. M.
All members are encouraged to be present; a full report on the last project will be made. The Ladies' Aid has repapered all rooms and varnished in the parsonage this month,
which is gratefully acknowledged herewith.

NEW FOUNTAIN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The New Fountain Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. John Muennink on Wednesday, April 21st.
The meeting was opened by the leader reading "We call Him a Savior because He literally saves us from ourselves, our sins, our despair, and then gives vision and dynamic for the remaking of the world according to the pattern of the Kingdom of God. Until we see something better we shall cleave to Him and shall share Him with all men everywhere.
Up to this time we have seen nothing better. There seems to be nothing else on the horizon."

"Worship the King" was sung.
After a short business session the program was continued by Mrs.
Stiegler, who gave a paper on "Home Mission Evangelism", after which a very interesting report was given by our delegates from the Woman's Missionary Conference held at Ker-ville. The leader then gave the call to worship.

Mrs. Fritz Bohmfalk gave meditation out of the World Outlook. Mrs.
Geo. Wiemers read the Scripture from Luke 10:1-20, after which a poem was read by the leader. After a few minutes of silent prayer the meeting was closed by the hymn,
"Lord, Speak to Me That I May Speak."

The Society was dismissed by its benediction. "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the Word of God."

A TATTERED RELIC.

Some months ago an ancient newspaper clipping brought to our attention the fact that Hondo at one time had a newspaper called the Quill.
Old timers had to labor to call it to mind, but a few newspaper clippings among Judge H. E. Haass' files disclosed that such a paper did exist
for a few months from the late winter to early summer of 1890.

The other day, in digging still deeper into his files, the Judge dug up, what is probably the last of its kind in existence, a tattered copy of the Quill itself.

The copy is No. 18 of Volume I and bears date of May 30, 1890. This shows that it was begun about the last of January or first of February preceding. As we recall the previous reference to it, the paper demised
very soon after the date of this copy.

The paper was a six column folio,
one side patent and the other home
print, the home print side being set in ten point type. It gives its advertising rates as follows: "Local notices 10 cents a line for first insertion and 5 cents for each subsequent insertion," which, taking into consideration the size of the type, to say nothing about circulation, is nearly three times the present charge of The Anvil Herald. Its subscription price was $1.50 per year.

The name of P. J. Stephenson flies
at the mast-head as Editor and Proprietor, and there must have been some jealousy of the lawyer-editor of his contemporary at Castroville
if we read the following squib from its editorial column understandingly:
"Mr. B. B. Rose is now the faber pusher on the Castroville Anvil, and grinds on alliance copy in a style that makes him appear as one of the boys."

By way of understanding the above, The Anvil had but recently passed out of the hands of its founders and was then owned by the Farmers Alliance and edited for them as an official organ.

The little paper carries a little better than five columns of advertising out of its twelve home print columns. Schuehle & Bless, successors of R. Frerichs, dealers in General Merchandising, and Fuoss, Bohl & Co., occupying the largest space.

As time and space will permit, we hope to reproduce some of the items
from the paper's yellowed pages, items about the activities of people
long gone and others now grown old who were children then. How swiftly time flies and what changes are wrought in its flight are forcefully impressed by an inspection of such an old relic.

NEW AGENT-OPERATOR.

A new agent-operator in the person of W. B. Phelps was installed at the depot last Monday, April 26th, taking the places formerly filled by both Mr. Jungman and Mr. Crouch, the veteran railroad men whose deaths came so close together recently.

Mr. Phelps has been in the service of the Southern Pacific Ry. for about thirty years, the last four having been spent at La Coste where he is highly esteemed for his courteous and efficient attention to the company's business. He comes to Hondo on his seniority, having by his service earned his right to a deserved promotion.

The two men whom he succeeds had been long connected with the service at Hondo, Mr. Jungman, especially having spent the greater part of his life here and been intimately connected with the business life of the community.

As one who was long and closely associated with the men he succeeds, we can wish the new incumbent greater success than that he, too, may gain the high esteem in which his predecessors were held.

Let us do your job printing.

Taylor, First Vice President of the Woodmen Circle; State Manager of Southwestern Texas.

ercises, introduction of guests, and exemplification of the ritualistic work. Proficiency certificates will be awarded to officers who can give their charges perfectly. This session will be open to the public.

Luncheon will be served at noon,
with Miss Dolan as toastmistress.

The afternoon session will begin at 2 and will include a business session and election of new district officers. A class of candidates will be initiated, following which the Pleasanton and San Antonio drill teams will present some fancy drills. There will be talks by the national and state officers present, and other enertainment numbers.

H. E. GIRLS HAVE STYLE REVUE

The annual style show sponsored by the girls of the Home Economics
department of Hondo High School Monday night of this week before a large audience. The costumes shown were school frocks, street dresses,
and night gowns, made and modeled
by the girls of the sewing classes.
A delightful feature of the revue was the parade of small children in play clothes made for them by the members of the H. E. Club.

The stage, with its decorations of roses, lilies and fern, formed the setting for the fashion showing, and during the parade of the amateur mannequins fitting promenade music was rendered on the piano by Miss Wilma Spratt. Sonny Gaines sang refrains emphasizing personalities
of the girls and their costumes.

The program opened with a reading by Gwen Gray on "Funny Little Hats", which she personified in the hat of a remote vintage topping her old-fashioned costume. More up-to-date models were worn by LaVerne Ulbrich and Mary Ann Noonan.

The school dresses came on display first, all without exception being made on simple lines and conservative in materials and colors appropriate for everyday school wear. Those modeling the school dresses were:
Frances Wools, Zella Schuehle,
Minnie Doyle Schuehle, Ruthie Bell
Tomerlin, Gladys Schuehle, Irene Nietenhoefer, Georgia Mae Muennink, Lorine Koch, Evelyn Koch, Mildred Huesser, Hertha Hairston, Josephine Dawson, Bonita Speece, Lonnie Jo Walters, Mabel Taylor and Zonie Taylor.

Susie Muennink entertained with a tap dance and Billie Merritt played
"Fiddling the Fiddle" on her violin
during the intermission of the program. The revue of street dresses followed. Again good taste and a knowledge of individual requirements in their selections were outstanding. The costumes were enhanced by the accessories worn. The models were: Vernell Stiegler, Mildred Martin, Earline Batot, Anna Marie Saathoff, Fay Iris Carter, Evelyn Ruth Dawson, Mary Elizabeth Meyer, Florine Williams, Ginger Fusselman, Jo Reily, Amanda Haass, Gwen Gray, Juanita and Wanda Dawson, Aileen Grell, Wanda
Redmond, Susie Muennink, Elizabeth
Reynolds, Kathleen Reily, Billy Merritt, Helen Benton, Mary Belle Embrey, Helen Burgin, Frances Ruth Fly, Betty Jean Merriman, Dorothy Mae Moore, Jeanette Stiegler, Evelyn Haegelin, Ada Bell Carter, Anna Laura Renken, Patricia Ney and Merle McCall. During this showing Kathleen Reily and Frances Ruth Fly sang "Alice Blue Gown".

The tiny models of the play clothes brought down the house with their stage presence and, in some instances, their histrionics. They were:
Lloyd Muennink, Wilma Breiten, Ramona Koch, Doris Marie Schulte, Lynd Carter, Barbara Ann Zerr, Tommy Holmberg, Barbara Timber-
lake, Nucl Earl Wools, Ann Reily, Shirley Jean Smith, Jimmy Askew,
Doris Ann Dorsey, Helen Boehle,
Janie Rath, Diane Muennink, Joan
Boon, Carol Elizabeth Graff, Barbara Harlike, Beverly Schuehle, Dooley Crow, Anna Marie Braden, Elneta Jane Saathoff, Mary Louise
Decker, Georgia Ann Reitzer, Margaret Ann Renken, Kathleen Brucks, Charles Ney. During their parade
Dooley Crow, Carol Elizabeth Graff
and Kathryn Brucks each presented solo dances.

Two of the H. E. students, Vernell Stiegler and Anna Marie Saathoff, in cowboy regalia, gave a delightful surprise performance with the former playing the French harp and the latter singing "I Want To Be a Cowboy's Sweetheart" with yodeling interpolations.

The last number on the program was a song, "Goodnight My Love", by Zonie Taylor, while the following modeled the nightgowns: Frances Wools, Ruthie Bell Tomerlin, Gladys
Schuehle, Evelyn Koch, Bonita
Speece, Mabel Taylor. In grand finale the entire group of models assembled on the stage and sang a final refrain.

Martin Noonan was an able master of ceremonies.

Miss Stubbs, H. E. teacher, was director of the affair.

The following winners were announced: School dresses—1st, Bonita
Speece, 2nd Lorine Koch, 3rd Zonie
Taylor, Street dresses—1st Jo Reily, 2nd Ginger Fusselman, 3rd Kathleen Reily. Ginger Fusselman was elected to represent the H. E. Club at the State Rally as a delegate.

COTTON FUTURE.

By Clayton Rand.

* All political experiments to enrich the cotton growers, notwithstanding, the future of cotton lies in cheaper and increased yields—its added uses and the intensified sale of its products
in the markets of the world.

* It is painfully true that while the growers of other products
have increased consumption
through well-directed advertising effort, little has been done with the printed word to promote the increased sale of cotton.

* Even the South, a region so dependent upon the staple, has neglected to make its people cotton-conscious through the advertising columns of the press.

* With all the romance that cotton provides to prime the printed salesman and captivate the public, the cigarette-makers,
orange-growers, and the raisin
pickers have done a better job
than we have of it.

TAXES EQUAL DIVIDENDS.

The annual report of a Western electric utility company vividly illustrates the increasing gravity of the tax and legislative problems faced by the electric industry.

In 1936, the company's taxes totaled $7,153,509—an increase of 9.2 per cent over 1935. The preferred and common dividends paid by the company were very little larger than taxes paid—$7,277,998. In other words, government received almost as much of the company's earnings
as did its owners, and government had no investment and took no risk.

Expressing the company's tax burdens another way, in 1920 its taxes amounted to $4.38 for each active meter in service. In 1935 they amounted to $6.25. And in 1936 they touched the record figure of $7.10.

Taxes will be still higher. Existing taxes will not go down, and new taxes—such as the Social Security
Tax—go into effect.

It would not be so serious if government, as it increased the tax burden borne by public service companies, at the same time encouraged them to expand, under fair regulation, and increase their business and revenues. But it is a curious paradox that even as government boosts
taxes on utilities, it is building subsidized, tax-free competitive plants
of its own—and encouraging,
through gifts and loans, the construction of subsidized, tax-free municipal plants.

In other words, it is deliberately killing the goose that lays its golden tax eggs and transferring the tax load to the remaining geese (the public).

No private business could remain solvent and adopt a deliberate policy of destroying its best paying customers.

It is high time the people awaken to this intolerable situation and realize the great stake they have in this vital problem—a cash stake amounting to nearly 15 per cent of the entire gross income of private electric companies, which the people collect in taxes and which would have to be paid by the people in additional taxes on themselves, if private utility earnings were destroyed.

HOFFMAN-WURZBACH

One of the most beautiful spring weddings was performed by Rev. Jacobi, at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, at 8:30, Wednesday morning, when Miss Lucille Hoffman from Culebra became the happy bride of August Wurzbach of Cliff.

The church was beautifully decorated with large baskets of flowers.

The bride was gowned in white satin, with a veil which formed an attractive halo caught with orange blossoms, about her head. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and fern.

The bridal party entered while the strains of Lohengrin Bridal March was being played. Miss Evelyn Haby, in pale green satin with a turban to match, entered first, followed by Miss Melba Wurzbach in yellow satin with a matching turban. Miss Lorene Hoffman, maid of honor, came next, dressed in blue satin with a matching turban, followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. Milton Leobold, sister of the bride gowned in pink satin and a matching turban. Then came the bride, on the arm of her father. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink carnations and fern. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his attendants, Clarence Wurzbach, Harry Haby and Emmet Wurzbach, best man. They were dressed in navy blue suits.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was followed by a dance at Culebra Inn.

The young couple left for a brief honeymoon. For her going-away suit the bride wore navy-blue with white accessories.

CALENDAR OF DISTRICT COURT TO BE REVISED

From The Uvalde Leader-News.

Designed to equalize time in those counties where the docket is heavier and to bring about greater efficiency in disposing of litigation, a bill has been introduced in the legislature which calls for a revision of the 38th District Court calendar. Judge K. K. Woodley has announced.

The bill, which upon passage would become effective July 1, recently was favorably reported out of committee and is expected to be adopted as a matter of routine when it reaches a vote in Austin. The measure was introduced by Representative Joe Monkhouse of Uvalde, and has the solid support of Senators J. Franklin Spears and H. L. Winfield, Representatives Coke R. Stevenson and Alfred P. Petch, portions of whose districts overlap with the 38th Judicial District.

The calendar for 1938 as worked out in the legislative measure is as follows:

Zavala County — Three two-week terms, opening Jan. 3, May 5 and Sept. 5.

Medina County — Two three-week terms, opening Jan. 17 and June 20.

Uvalde County — Two four-week terms and one three-week term, opening Feb. 7, May 30 and October 10.

Kerr County — One four-week term and one three-week term, opening March 7 and Sept. 19.

Kendall County — Two two-week terms, opening April 4 and November 7.

Bandera County — Two two-week terms, opening April 18 and November 21.

Real County — Two two-week terms, opening May 16 and December 5.

The proposed new schedule has the unanimous endorsement of the bar associations in each of the seven counties of the district.

Several improvements have been made on Highway No. 2 south of San Antonio. The underpasses have been completed. The highway now runs west of the railroad through the city of Devine and the highway between Lytle and Devine has been widened and is a fine stretch of road. These kind of improvements are badly needed on No. 3, especially in Medina County, where the narrow width of the highway makes it extremely dangerous and many accidents have resulted. The Chamber of Commerce of Castroville is working for the improvement of No. 3 through their county and it is to be hoped that their efforts will be rewarded with success.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Pinget Jr. returned to their home at Shamrock, Tex., last Thursday.

HONDO DEFEATS DILLEY.

The Owls had to overcome a two-run lead made off Grell in the second inning before they went on to win by a score of 6-2.

The Dobbys from Dilley scored two runs in the second inning on errors made by Langford and Rothe. Then Grell decided to win his own ball game and struck out the next two men up. With one run in, Dilley hit to left, scoring Rose.

Hondo scored two in the third when Garcia fumbled the ground balls hit by Grell and Langford. In the fourth the Owls put the game on ice when they scored four runs on four hits coupled around an error, walk and fielder's choice.

The defence of the Owls was ragged during the early innings but they settled down later in the game.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS PUT ON STYLE SHOW.

The Home Economics girls really put on a style show! We are proud of our girls for being such seamstresses. The girls showed their intelligence in selection of the pattern, color and design for their dresses. Every dress was very becoming and really fitted as they should. Did you not notice the new styles of sleeve and skirt lengths? Well, anyway, they brought it out. Everyone enjoyed the small children. Their clothes had the same characteristics as the older girls (perfectly selected). The nightgowns "took the cake". There wasn't a girl who didn't get a large applause when she modeled her dress.

The program began with Gwen Gray giving a poem on funny little hats, and following this the school dresses were modeled. Sonny Gaines sang during the modeling and Susie Muennink danced. During the modeling of the street dresses there were songs by Betty Jean Merriman, Frances Ruth Fly and Kathleen Reilly. Billy Merritt played a beautiful violin solo. The small children caused a lot of laughter and enjoyment especially when "Doolie" Crow, Carolyn Elizabeth Graff and Katheline Brucks danced.

Vernell Stiegler and Anna Marie Saathoff gave us some cowboy music. Then came the nightgowns! Zonie Taylor sang to a picture, and then came the grand finale where everybody sang "Easter Parade".

We want to thank every one for coming and helping us raise enough money to send the girls to Fort Worth. We also want to thank the ones who took part in our program, as our wonderful announcer, Martin Noonan; the grand piano player, Miss Spratt; LaVerne Ulbrich and Mary Ann Noonan for wearing our hats.

GONZALES OUT SCORES HONDO IN WILD GAME.

Gonzales won a wild ball game Friday when they scored 16 runs to 10 for Hondo. The Owls were short on pitchers due to the illness of Jack Hartung. Ep Finger pitched seven innings giving up 14 runs and 11 hits. Rucker took over in the eighth after Finger yielded a home run to pitcher Baker. The Owls choked in the clutches and left 14 men stranded on the bases.

Baker twirled the route for Gonzales and allowed 9 hits and ten runs, but granted also ten walks. Baker and Johnston led the Gonzales teams with three hits out of five trips to the platter. While Huesser of Hondo also got three for five, and Perez two for three.

The deciding factors of the game was the loose fielding and untimely hitting of the Owls.

OWLS MEET APACHES HERE.

The Gonzales Apaches and the Hondo Owls will battle it out here Friday for the Tri-District championship. Should the Apaches win they will be the champs, while, on the other hand, if the Owls win a flip of the coin will decide where the final game will be played.

Probable starting pitchers will be Finger for Hondo and Baker for Gonzales.

The Owls will be gunning for Gonzales due to the fact that they have already been beaten by the Apaches. Come out and see what we think will be a good ball game, and help support the Owls.

STUDENT WINS SECOND IN MUSIC CONTEST.

Evelyn Knopp, who was winner of her group at the recent District Music Festival held in San Antonio, has again carried off honors at the State Festival held at Fort Worth on April 23rd. She received second prize there after competition with all the various district winners of the State. The awards were made only after intensive examinations in piano playing, theory, ear training, keyboard harmony, scales, sight reading, and transposition. This additional honor in a state competition is another proof of Evelyn's outstanding musicianship.

One of the features of the Festival was the privilege of the winners to have an audition with the concert pianist, Frank Mannheimer. He was especially complimentary of Evelyn's work.

She was accompanied on the trip by Sister Amabilis and Sister Helen Mary of Our Lady of the Lake College.

DEVINE NEWSLETS.

From The Devine News.

LOCAL CHAMBER COMMERCE HAS INTERESTING MEET.

The local chamber reports an interesting meeting Monday night with Mr. Dickerson, of Corpus Christi, as guest speaker. The matter of trying to get some action on Highway No. 173 was the chief matter of interest. Mr. Dickerson agreed to meet a delegation from here before the State Highway Commission, next week, to see if we cannot get action on the matter looking to some real work soon, on this long promised and often delayed matter. We have spent around $8,000, or $10,000, securing right-of-way, and buying posts, etc. to fence the same. We understand that practically everything is now clear to offer the Commission complete right-of-way from Devine to Hondo.

TWO YOUNG ATTORNEYS CROSS SWORDS HERE.

Quite a little interest was taken in a R.R. damage suit here before Justice Seerest's court, Monday, in which a Natalia man was suing the Mo-Pac for the loss of a cow. The plaintiff was represented by Frank X. Vance and the defendant company by Joe Briscoe. This was their first appearance, we believe, in an important case the one against the other. The jury of six men failed to agree and were discharged, after each of the boys had brought enough law and oratory to convince any reasonable minded that he was right; and we understand that the jury stood 3 to 3 on the matter. It seems that the laws have been changed of late and what was really law in such cases a few years ago, is not the law today.

YANCEY.

President Demands Economy, Predicting Deficit of $418,000,000, but Asks Billion and Half for Relief— Franco Creates Authoritarian State.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD © Western Newspaper Union.

President Roosevelt

REVISING his budget estimates for the fiscal year 1938, President Roosevelt told congress in a special message that the deficit probably would amount to $418,000,000 exclusive of debt retirement payments of $400,000,000, instead of the "layman's" balanced budget he predicted in January. He recommended the appropriation of $1,500,000,000 for relief; and he demanded rigid economy to combat an anticipated drop in federal revenues amounting to $600,000,000. Mr. Roosevelt also said there must be a careful survey of the nation's tax structure, and intimated that a new tax bill would be introduced at the next session of congress.

In correcting the over-estimation of revenue and the under-estimation of expenditures, the President indicated that the national debt will rise over the 36 billion dollar mark. Though he made no specific recommendations as to economy, the President spoke sharply about "special groups" who are exerting pressure to bring about increases in government expenditures. It was understood he referred especially to the farm tenancy program, proposing an annual expenditure of $135,000,000; the Wagner housing bill, calling for an expenditure of $50,000,000 a year, and the Harrison-Elmer education bill, calling for allocations among the states beginning at $100,000,000 for the first year and reaching a maximum of $300,000,000 a year.

Mr. Roosevelt had rejected these measures at a White House conference and his attitude provoked various prominent senators and representatives so much that they declared they would favor cutting down the relief appropriation he asked to one billion dollars. Among the Democratic leaders taking this stand were Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, representing the appropriations committee, and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi. Said Senator Byrnes:

"I think the President's estimate of one and a half billion dollars for work relief is too high. It would make possible a monthly expenditure of $125,000,000. Each month it will be possible for Mr. Hopkins to further reduce the number on the relief rolls and consequently reduce the expenditures.

"It is my purpose not only to urge that the work relief appropriation be limited to one billion dollars, but that the law require larger contributions from the sponsors of projects. If the sponsors could be required to put up 50 per cent of the cost of the projects, we would not have applications for a billion dollars during the next fiscal year."

Senator Joe Robinson, majority leader, made an earnest plea for economy in all directions; and Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican leader, assured Senator Robinson that the Republicans would co-operate in every way possible with the Democrats in their "balanced" efforts to balance expenditures with income.

In the house the economy program lost a point when Representative Vinson of Kentucky succeeded in getting through his $1,000,000 stream pollution bill.

TWO cabinet members were quick to comment on the President's economy orders. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace forecast an immediate curtailment of the administration's farm activities. Federal aid to farm tenants, production control and the ever-normal granary are among the projects to feel the economic ax, Mr. Wallace said. He is still hopeful that the crop insurance program, to be applied to the 1938 wheat yield, may be salvaged.

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper and his first assistant, Ernest Draper, joined in predicting that business recovery will not be retarded by the apparent inability of the administration to balance the budget in the 1938 fiscal year, as the President anticipated in January. They said they regarded lagging treasury revenues as a temporary condition and added:

"The present headway of business is so strong that it will offset the effect of a probable deficit."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT announced his plans for another fishing trip, to begin April 23 and last two weeks or longer. This time he is going to angle in the Gulf of Mexico while congress struggles with his latest recommendations. After leaving Washington his first stop will be at Biloxi, Miss. From there he will go by motor to New Orleans, pausing en route at Beauvoir, the old home of Jefferson Davis that is now a home for Confederate veterans. At New Orleans Mr. Roosevelt will board the Presidential yacht Potomac and cruise out into the gulf after tarpon. A navy cruiser will accompany the yacht. The fishing trip will end at Galveston and Mr. Roosevelt will go from there to Fort Worth to visit his son Elliott.

While the Potomac is at sea Secretary McIntyre will maintain headquarters at Galveston with a small staff.

NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, British chancellor of the exchequer, introduced in parliament the biggest budget since World war times, and gave warning that national finances for several years to come would be dominated by expenditures on armaments. He said that the government will require an outlay of 862,848,000 pounds (about $4,314,240,000) to carry out its plans and pay its expenses during the next year. Revenue obtainable he estimated at 847,950,000 pounds (about $4,239,750,000), leaving a prospective deficit of 14,898,000 pounds (about $74,490,000).

Chamberlain said the taxpayers would have to pay 3 pence more on each taxable pound of income, bringing the tax up to 5 shillings, or 25 per cent. He also announced a new tax on business profits, and this especially was bitterly attacked by the Conservatives, led by Sir Robert Horne. They argued that it would demoralize industry.

FRANCISCO FRANCO is well on the way to becoming a real dictator of the part of Spain his insurgent forces control, and of the entire country if they win the war. By decree the general has merged the two chief rightist factions under his leadership and has outlawed all other parties, thus creating a one-party authoritarian state. His decree left open the way to restoration of the monarchy in Spain "if the nation needs it," and the monarchists of the Carlist and Bourbon persuasions agreed that if this takes place, the king shall be Prince Juan, youngest son of Alfonso XIII. He is known as prince of the Asturias and is twenty-three years old.

Gen. Franco

"The new Spain needs a new king," said a Carlist leader. "We traditionalists prefer the prince of the Asturias, who is a known sympathizer with the ideals of the new Spain."

GOV. LEWIS O. BARROWS of Maine has lined up with other state executives who will not stand for riotous and illegal tactics by strikers. When an unruly mob of 1,000 men tried to storm two of nineteen factories in Auburn involved in a general shoe strike and the local authorities were unable to handle the situation, Governor Barrows ordered out eight companies of the National Guard.

"I'll order out the entire military forces of Maine, if necessary to preserve constitutional authority," the executive said. "When there is open defiance to the orders of our courts and our officers of the law, there is little difference from anarchy. We shall not tolerate this situation for a moment."

The trouble followed a state supreme court injunction, issued by Judge Harry Manser, outlawing the shoe strike which affects about 6,500 workers. The mob had been aroused by speeches by Powers Hapgood, New England secretary for the C. I. O., and other organizers.

FORBES MORGAN, who was the able treasurer of the Democratic national committee during the 1936 campaign and who resigned to take the presidency of the Distilled Spirits Institute, died suddenly in a committee room of the Ohio state capitol in Columbus. Mr. Morgan, a relative of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt by marriage, was a major in the World war.

BY UNANIMOUS vote, nearly 4,000 Daughters of the American Revolution, in their forty-sixth annual congress in Washington, adopted a resolution opposing the President's Supreme court enlargement bill. It declared against "unbalancing" the federal tripartite system of government and favored submission of the issues raised by the President to the people through a constitutional amendment.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT sent to the senate the nomination of Mrs. Florence Jaffray Harriman of Washington as minister to Norway. She is the widow of J. Borden Harriman, New York banker, and has been active in politics for a number of years. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., who now holds the Norway post, was nominated to be ambassador to Poland.

OPEN hearings on the President's Supreme court bill were ended by the senate judiciary committee, which is now engaged in considering the measure in executive sessions. It was believed the committee would debate the bill for several weeks.

Boxes full of petitions against the measure were presented to the committee. Senator Hiram Johnson of California handed in a volume signed by 75,000 voters of his state, and a series numbering 25,000 came from the Women's National Committee for Hands Off the Supreme Court and Women Investors of America, Inc.

One witness heard in support of the bill was Smith Wildman Brookhart, radical former senator from Iowa. He said the President's proposal was an issue in the campaign because the opposition declared what he would do to the Supreme court.

"It was specifically made an issue in the campaign," said Mr. Brookhart. "The President himself did not so urge it because he probably had not fully made up his mind, but former Senator James A. Reed, the ablest, most brilliant and most forceful opponent the President had in the whole campaign, did present in detail the President's plan upon accurate information. He dared the President to deny his statement."

"There was no denial because Senator Reed was telling the truth and the President was content to submit the issue upon the violent arguments against it alone."

Judge William Denman of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco, an appointee of President Roosevelt, argued against Chief Justice Hughes' contention that a Supreme court working in two or more separate panels would be unconstitutional.

IN THE last five months strikes in the automotive industry have cost the workers between $65,000,000 and $70,000,000 in wages. And still, at the behest of John L. Lewis and his C. I. O., they are planning further strikes. What they gain, beyond recognition of their union which probably could be obtained by negotiation wherever it is desired, is problematical. The figures are from Ward's Reports, Inc., which says of losses to companies affected that the net volume of business "delayed" by the strikes would approximate $200,000,000, but what proportion of this actually is lost cannot be calculated.

Keeping "foreign agitators" out of the picture, the representatives of General Motors of Canada and of the workers at Oshawa, Ontario, reached a settlement of the strike in that plant. The company agreed to raise wages and shorten work hours, but does not recognize the United Automobile Workers of America. J. L. Cohen, Toronto attorney who represented the strikers, said the settlement was "eminently satisfactory."

"Let me tell Lewis here and now that he and his gang will never get their greedy paws on Ontario as long as I'm prime minister," said Premier Hepburn.

He thereupon let it be known that he was prepared to push through legislation that would exclude the C. I. O. from Ontario if this becomes necessary to save the pulpwood and mining industries from C. I. O. control.

The executive board of the union at a meeting in Washington decided to postpone until November the drive to unionize the Ford company plants.

TEST flights by the army air corps' new big bombing plane were being made at Seattle, Wash., where it was built by the Boeing Aircraft company. This machine is the largest military airplane in the world, with an all metal fuselage 100 feet long, a wingspread of 105 feet, and a cruising range of 6,000 miles. It weighs about 40,000 pounds unloaded and 75,000 pounds when carrying a full complement of fuel and armament. It has four twin row engines of a new type which will deliver 1,400 horse power each for takeoff. The speed is about 250 miles an hour. There are five streamlined blisters on the new machine which are emplacements for small, quick firing cannon, instead of machine guns. These cannon will outshoot any guns mounted on any other military airplane in the world and make the great machine virtually impregnable.

PATROL of the coasts and borders of Spain by the navies and land observers of Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany, as arranged some time ago by the international non-intervention committee, is now in effect.

Under the command of British Vice Admiral Geoffrey Blake, aboard the battle cruiser Hood, the British fleet patrols the northern coast on the bay of Biscay. German patrols the southwestern coast while France guards Spanish Morocco and the Balearic islands and Italy the eastern Mediterranean coast.

Merchant vessels of the committee's 27 members entering Spanish territorial waters must first call at specified ports and take aboard non-intervention committee supervisors who will have the right to examine the cargo.

New Poultry Book Outlines Care and Feeding of Birds

All Phases of Poultry Raising Discussed By Experts.

Good chicks, good feed and good management. These are the three major factors in successful poultry raising, according to the new "Chick

Good breeding, modern feeding, and correct management result in one and a quarter pound birds at six weeks. Death losses are cut to a minimum.

and Pullet Book," recently released by Purina Mills. A thirty-page booklet, it covers practically every phase of poultry raising from "pip through production." In it are discussions of starting feeds and comparative results in chick growth at the end of six weeks; a baby chick feeding plan; the importance and profits resulting from feeding a good mash through the growing period; and an analysis of range rearing as compared to raising birds in confinement.

"Control Feeding" Discussed
A relatively new practice in poultry raising, "control feeding" is given prominence in this publication. The advisability of letting chicks and hens "pick and choose" their feed has long been questioned. Within the last few years an increasing number of poultrymen have been successfully raising their birds on control feeding programs. Greater uniformity of birds, better growth and development, and higher production are definite benefits gained.

Vitamin A Needed For Growth
As birds go through the growing period there is a constant need for vitamin A. Poultrymen know that the quicker birds make the jump from the starting period to the laying house, the quicker begin the profits. They also know that fast growth calls for plenty of vitamin A. Pullets that do not get vitamin A in sufficient amounts to meet their needs go into the laying house thin, scrawny, and "knotty." Later, unable to keep up under the strain of heavy egg production, they break down. This means red ink entries in the poultry ledger. How to assure a ration containing a sufficient amount of vitamin A is explained in the Purina "Chick and Pullet Book."

Prevention Lowers Disease
One section is devoted to poultry diseases, with helpful hints as to means of prevention, and general treatment. Preventive sanitation and preventive management are listed as the two important phases of disease control. Keeping the houses and ground clean gives the most protection, of course. Preventive management includes intelligent effort to keep birds under conditions as natural as possible thereby cutting down spread of disease among the flock.

Copies of the 1937 Chick and Pullet Book may be secured, free of charge, from feed merchants handling Purina checkerboard feeds.

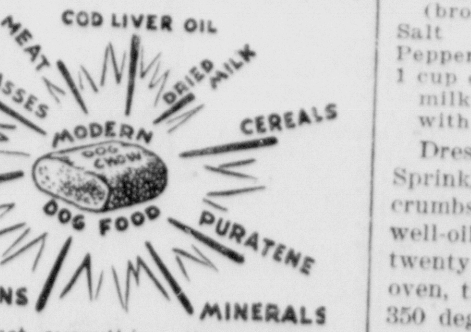

Modern Dog Foods Made With Numerous Ingredients

"The modern dog needs more than table scraps and a bone a day," says A. H. Leonard, head of the Dog Department of Purina Mills. In feeding dogs the most important thing to remember is that they require a ration that completely meets their needs.

Animal proteins from meat and milk are important ingredients in modern dog foods. Puratene, a rich vitamin A concentrate, is a valuable addition to dog foods. Vitamin A plays a most important part in building up resistance to disease and Puratene supplies an abundance of this vitamin.

Cereals in dog food must be carefully processed so that dogs can digest them easily. The dog's digestive tract is not built to take care of cereals in their natural state, yet they need the carbohydrates that cereals furnish. Cod liver oil is also a valuable ingredient in dog food since it supplies vitamin D.

Many Ingredients Included
"Most dog owners are amazed when they learn how many different ingredients are included in modern commercial dog foods," Leonard says, "and many people are discouraged because their dogs are not getting all of them. But the proper feeding of dogs is no longer a mysterious complex business. Manufacturers of modern dog foods include in their products meat, proteins, vitamins, cod liver oil, salt, minerals, puratene, and dried milk. Purina dog chow comes in a compressed checker form which makes for a greater convenience in feeding. It is also a complete feed, which means that the dog needs only chow and water for a complete feeding. It is easy to feed and leaves no greasy dishes, a desirable feature in the eyes of the housewife."

Dogs get everything they need for maintenance of body condition, growth, vigor, and resistance to disease, from a single food.

First 24 Hours of Life Baby's Hardest Time

By MARIE K. JOHNSON

Undernourishment is one of the most common of the causes of infant mortality, according to a survey recently undertaken in Chicago. Statistics show that of 4,522 babies under one year of age that died in 12 months, 988 died in the first 24 hours.

Eight hundred and seventy-six died in the first six days, exclusive of the first 24 hours, and 1,798 died from the seventh day to the sixth month. Eight hundred and sixty died in the last six months of the year. The survey indicated that a surprisingly large number of infants are artificially fed, which condition, doctors agree, had a marked bearing on their undernourished conditions. Naturally, no one food may prove satisfactory in every case, although the survey showed that evaporated milk in many cases had proved an excellent substitute for mother's milk. This may be explained by reason of the fact that evaporated milk is simply pure, concentrated cow's milk from which 60 per cent of the water has been removed. It contains practically every element necessary for good health and is consequently an excellent builder of bone and tissue.

Although authorities on health recommend evaporated milk as a baby food, like other substitutes for the natural supply, it should not be considered as a food complete in itself. Addition of orange or tomato juice, barley water or lime water is important in providing adequate diet for the infant.

For babies, milk of dependable purity is essential. Market milk will not keep for any length of time and is also liable to contamination, especially in hot weather, while evaporated milk, hermetically sealed in sterilized containers, remains as fresh and pure as on the day it was canned.

Sterility in evaporated milk, authorities agree, is one of the most important points in its favor. In processing, evaporated milk is subjected to 240 degrees heat for a half hour, thereby removing all possibility of bacterial life being present in the milk. Heat is the only preservative for this type of milk and the heat has the further beneficial effect of making the curds of milk more flocculent and easier to digest.

Martha took stock of her accomplishments. All around the campus she was known as the candy girl. That settled it. If there was one thing she excelled in it was in making candy. Undoubtedly she had a gift—and this gift she would put to good account. She had never heard of a man or woman with a college degree going into the candy business. But, she decided, the vast majority of her competitors in this business would not be blessed with superior education such as hers.

On the last day of college Bertram Ross had proposed to Martha. A few days before another of her class had proposed. Two or three others would have done the same if she had given them an opportunity. But Martha was not especially impressed by this epidemic of proposals. She felt that her popularity was due to no personal charms, but rather to her ability to make candy. So she told Bertram Ross that she didn't want to marry him because she wanted to go into the candy business.

All that summer Martha worked at her scheme. She made a little candy in a little room she had hired in the city and she sold it at the exchanges and at the counters of one or two grocery stores, making enough barely to cover expenses. She couldn't meet much more of a demand until she set up a larger workroom and hired a girl or two to help with the work, and she couldn't afford to expand her plant in this way unless she was assured of orders. So Martha went forth with samples and took orders. She went to the buying agent for a large chain of newsstands. He cautiously expressed approval of the candy, but if he took any he would take a great deal. He would want a contract and a guarantee that she would continue to use the same ingredients that she did then. Of course Martha used the best materials.

Martha looked over the terms of the proposed contract. The price seemed a little too low, but the buying agent said he would not consider a deal at a higher figure and Martha knew he meant it. He wanted to have her sign at once but Martha held back—she would have to do a little figuring first.

Martha went elatedly back to her dingy workroom and read the proposed contract over carefully. She had stopped to get wholesale prices on her way home. Some things in the contract she did not quite understand. Then it occurred to her that Bertram Ross was working in a law office, studying law at the same time. He could easily explain the few things she didn't understand in the contract. Martha knew Bertram was in the same city, but he had said that since she would not marry him he didn't want to see her. He had seemed so incredulous about her plans that she wanted him to see this contract anyway—wanted to show him that within a few months she had won success.

So it was that the next day Bertram Ross called at Martha's candy kitchen to talk over the contract. Martha gave a little gasp as he appeared. She had forgotten how very attractive he really was. With the contract spread out on one of the work tables and Martha bending over it in her pink work smock they read it slowly together. Bertram asked a few questions and did some quick figuring. Then he looked at Martha.

"It can't be done," he said. "They tried to sew you up with a losing deal. Either you have got to use less expensive materials or you've got to get more for your candy, and if you sign this contract and don't make good you'll be in a pretty fix." Martha began very gently to cry. The whole fabric of her dreams seemed to fade away, and all she knew or cared about just then was that Bertram was beside her, that he had his arms around her, and that he was telling her that even while he was studying law he could afford to support her as his wife.

"You know that early marriages even on a limited income turn out best—you learned that in college," Bertram told her.

"I know I did," agreed Martha happily.

The Candy Girl

WHEN Martha was in college she made up her mind that she ever did have to earn her own living she would do it in some unusual way. She would go into some sort of business that didn't attract other college graduates. Thus she, with her superior education, would compete only with obviously inferior, uneducated people and her financial success would be assured. Martha was the one member of her family who had gone to college—that was doubtless why she held such an exalted idea of the value of the degree for which she was working. Until the end of her senior year there didn't seem to be the shadow of a chance that she ever would have to earn her own living. She had inherited from her father large tracts of farm land—but somehow through an involvement of business that Martha couldn't quite understand any immediate return from her acres was out of the question.

Martha took stock of her accomplishments. All around the campus she was known as the candy girl. That settled it. If there was one thing she excelled in it was in making candy. Undoubtedly she had a gift—and this gift she would put to good account. She had never heard of a man or woman with a college degree going into the candy business. THE WAY OF SALVATION.

By Rev. J. T. Horger.

NO. 28.

We have written two articles on the Hebrew epistle, and take up the first, the apostle takes up the Old Testament; then Christ as a great High Priest after the order of Melchisedech, sitting at the right hand of God, is held up as an all-sufficient, effective high priest to procure a full and perfect atonement for every believer who will dare to go into the holiest of all. Now that word "atonement" means to make the true believer ONE in character with Christ. Of course, Christ provides the means, and the Holy Ghost applies it to our hearts. But I have said that this epistle was written to the already converted Hebrews. So let us turn to Heb. 5:11-14, "Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing that they are dull of hearing." Here the apostle tells us that he wants to explain to them the mystical relation between Melchisedech as a type and Christ as the anti-type. But he says it is hard to do, seeing that their spiritual understanding is so low and dull.

St. Paul in 1st. Cor. 2:14, says the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God. But the Hebrews were not altogether natural, as the next verse, No. 12, will show. For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and have become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat. For every one that needeth milk is unskillful in the word of righteousness: he is a babe." Can any one doubt for a moment that they were born of the Spirit; and, therefore, the apostle called them babes. What was the matter with them? They had no faith before them. They did not expect to receive the baptism with the Holy Ghost and fire as is both promised and required by the Holy Scriptures that they might obtain that standard of Christian perfection that every believer is called unto.

Heb. 6:1-7, therefore, leaving the principles of the doctrines of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, and the doctrine of baptism, and the laying on of hands, and of eternal judgment." Note, that he exhorts to leave the primary doctrines, namely: the first work of grace which consists of all the foundation stones upon which justification, regeneration and the new birth are built; and from thence to go on to Christian perfection. Then he says: "This will we do if God permit." Then the apostle tells us of a backslidden state likely to follow in case we refuse or neglect to go on to perfection. If you don't believe that one can backslide, lose his faith, and go to hell after they are converted, read and study very carefully Heb. 6:4-8. Then if not convinced call on me and I, by the help of God, will give you other quotations which in my mind, are just as clear and strong, to the same point.

But the apostle opens up with their in Heb. 6:9-20 in which he says: "But, beloved, we are persuaded better things for you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak." He then encourages them to hold on to their faith, which is anchored to that "within the veil." I wonder what that was within or beyond the veil? Why it was the Holy of Holies, representing the experience of holiness into which the believer enters by the baptism with the Holy Ghost and fire. Whether Jesus has already entered into the heavenly phase thereof, standing ready to pour out the promised Holy Spirit on every one that meets the terms, just as he did on the 120 on the first Pentecost after His ascension.

This brings us to Heb. 7:1-28, in which Melchisedech is held up as a type of Christ. His name, symbolizing Christ, meant KING of RIGHTEOUSNESS, and his city was named Salem, which meant PEACE, which likely later became the site of Jerusalem which in turn meant SETTLED AND GROUNDED IN PEACE, the HOLY CITY. Now the name, Melchisedech, his greatness and goodness, all signified the greatness, glory and all sufficiency of the high priesthood of Christ to "save them unto the UTTERMOST" that came to God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them." Sometimes preachers refer to this uttermost salvation as meaning God, through Christ, is able and willing to save the toughest of 'em, the blackest murderer, or the vilest harlot in all the earth, if they will only repent and come to God. All of which is true, according to certain Scriptures. But this uttermost salvation spoken of in Heb. 7:25 has no reference to the perfect cleansing from the sin of depravity, and the incoming of the Holy Ghost establishing that REST emphasized in the third and fourth chapter of this epistle. After the apostle had thoroughly presented Christ as an EFFECTUAL High Priest, he then says that of necessity he must have something to offer God in order to perfect an atonement; therefore, Heb. 9:12 tells us, "Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by His own blood He entered in once into the MOST HOLY place, having OBTAINED ETERNAL REDEMPTION for us." And as the Scriptures say: "All things now being ready", the apostle makes the following declaration: "For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifyeth to the purifying of the flesh; how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, PURGE your conscience from dead works to serve the living God. The ashes of the heifer, above spoken of, referred to a special preparation which God had the Israelites to prepare to put on the unclean, by which they were ceremonially cleansed, which is a type of God's sanctifying grace. We note also that the above was a PURGING process which implies a much deeper and more thorough process of purification than that of regeneration.

Next we come to Heb. 10:1-18. The apostle here shows that the formal grind out of the types and shadows under the law dispensation could never take away sin; but God had made a WILL in Christ, for the perfect sanctification of every believer in Christ. See 10:14. And that Christ had died for them; yea, and rose again and is now at the right hand of God, ready to make good "the promise of the Father" with every child of God. As it were, he makes an altar call; Heb. 10:19-23, "Having therefore, Brethren, BOLDNESS to enter into the HOLIEST by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated"—prepared—"for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh." That is, having the BOLDNESS to enter the Holy of Holies, which meant death to enter without the regenerating blood of Christ first upon the seeker. "A new and living way" simply means the seeker, being converted and led by the Spirit, the whole process is a LIVING way. "And having an high priest"—Jesus—"over the house of God; let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water." Both regenerated and baptized. Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering. "FOR HE IS FAITHFUL THAT PROMISED". The promise above spoken of is "the promise of the Holy Ghost", for that is the theme of the Hebrew epistle. Next two verses, he admonishes to diligently persist and so much the more "as ye see the day approaching." That is, the evidence of the coming of the Holy Ghost.

FOR SATISFACTORY SERVICE.

At the close of its first year 2,125 service employees of Pontiac dealers throughout the United States have qualified for membership in the Pontiac Service Craftsmen's Guild, according to L. K. Marshall, general service manager.

Of this number 1,222 have complied with the requirements of memberships over a period of six months, while 903 have maintained their standings for an entire year.

"The purpose of the service craftsmen's organization is to give national recognition to a select group of dealers' mechanics, shop foremen, service salesmen and service managers for meritorious work," said Marshall.

There are two citations. One called Provisional Service Craftsmen is for those who maintain a continuously high standard of efficiency, integrity and courtesy in their work over a period of six months. These men are given provisional craftsmen's cards and their names are recorded on a certificate presented to the dealer.

If they keep up their high standard for the second six months they become full-fledged service craftsmen and are presented with a service craftsmen's pin by a member of the central office service department staff.

Awards are being made now. In several places service clubs have

The primary purpose of the craftsmen's guild, Marshall explained, is to attract and hold good men in the service departments of Pontiac dealers. According to dealers' records, the guild has been received seriously by the men and is accomplishing its objective.

"This organization has deeper significance than just enrolling service men in an honorary group," he said. "We have every reason to believe that it is the key to maintaining the goodwill of the owner after he takes delivery of his car. And the kind of service which goodwill requires can be provided by giving the man who does the work the incentive of the rewards which good work properly merits."

Registrations of new automobiles in fifteen representative counties during November totaled 6,284 cars, 52.3 per cent over October and 11.1 per cent over November, 1935, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. Aggregate registrations during the eleven months of this year were 62,673 cars, against 54,630 cars during the corresponding period last year, an increase of 14.7 per cent. In comparison with the preceding month, sales in the two lower price brackets made the sharpest gains, but in comparison with November and the year to date last year this year's sales gains were considerably greater in the upper than in the lower price brackets, the Bureau's report said.

QUIHI NOTES.

And they called Rebekah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she said, I will go. Gen. 24:59.

There you are. Some had the notion that this whole marriage affair had been a parental scheme, foisted upon the young lady, and she merely had to put her name on the dotted line and keep mum. Not at all. She is there with open eyes, with a clear heart and vista. She even is called in a draw, where opinions differ. And her word goes for the homefolks and for herself. What a remarkable piece of confidence. In, practically, every marriage. Ever thought of it? There he comes, often from afar, little known perhaps, in his best attire and approach, and pleads with father and mother for the greatest and dearest they have, the very apple of their eye, the finest living object on which they had pinned their sublimest earthly hopes; yea, he comes and pleads for their child. Coming, as did Eliezer, "dona ferentes," with gold and jewels, confidence may grow faster with this artificial fertilizer under it. If he comes alone with his poor self, empty-handed, his future, perhaps, hanging in suspense, slow of speech, awkward, open-mouthed, temporarily scatter-brained; coming from a doubtful neighborhood, perhaps from an unequal yoked relationship, etc. But the girl pleads with him, with a clear sky in her heart and gilt-edged securities for the happiness of her future, up her sleeve, as she thinks. Often, I know, the starting fire or glow is stamped out ruthlessly. More often that confidence of the parents is born with the confidence of the child. They restrain their qualms and misgivings, though they know of many instances where the whole thing proved to be an empty show, with stolen thunder and stage tinsel, a mummery and a masquerade with borrowed plumes, a gross and grotesque attempt to bait the hook for the gullible, a hurly-burly to raise some smoke or dust screen for hiding the real situation; in brief, a delusion, a mockery, a snare. All this they heard of, yet they stand on tiptoe of expectation, open-eyed but unsuspecting, with firm and settled confidence. Can we explain? We'll try.

Mother's Day is approaching. May the 9th is set aside for the purpose. The sermon of the day will dwell on this subject. Will you be there? Will you come with a clean record? Has mother nothing to complain of? No adjustments needed, no apologies to make, no love to restore and to increase? What will mother say? If she is the right kind, she stands next to God for you. Superintendent Couser was the toastmaster. The program was as follows:

LOCAL MEN AT WORK ON SOIL CONSERVATION.

The following men of this place have received notice during the past week from County Agent C. M. Merritt to report for work in checking compliance in Soil Conservation work: O. J. Reinhart, plane table man; Herman Fohn, head chairman; Marvin Koch, rear chairman; Samuel Zerr, flagman; and Hilmar J. Koch, county supervisor.

O. J. Reinhart and Hilmar J. Koch attended a meeting of instruction applying to this work at Uvalde Tuesday.

problems and anxieties for a greater happiness and abundance of life. How often have you thanked the Lord for your mother?

On May the 6th we celebrate Ascension Day. We do it in memory of the risen Lord going to His Father in heaven. We combine it with the memory of our loved ones who are slumbering here and there towards resurrection. The bygone winter has left many an aching void and vacancy. Every family has followed the funeral march to the grave, sometime, somewhere. Shall the dead be forgotten, shall they have died in vain? How much do we owe them, every one of us? A German service will be held on that day, at the Old Quihi cemetery, 10 A. M., where the legends on the tomb-stones go back to the middle of the last century. We invite you for this service.

We are getting ready for the instruction work towards confirmation. A night-class is already in operation. Quite a number of young people have already been announced. Report your children in time. We are also ready for additional night-classes. Let's hear from you.

Announcements for May the 2nd: German service at 10:30; Sunday school at 9:30; English service at 7:30. Many have no time for the Lord. What excuse do you offer Him?

THE LIGHTS OF HOME.

The lights of Home! know they're shining
Out across the gleaming snow.
'Tis for them my heart is pining
For their bright and lustrous glow.

The lights of Home! May they still glisten
As they did in days gone by
Do the home-folks nightly listen
For a wanderer's cry?

The lights of Home! I see them gleaming
As they did long years ago.
A cheery radiance is streaming
Out across the sparkling snow.

The lights of home! O, keep them glowing Fathers—Mothers—everywhere.
Even though you have no way of knowing There's many saved from dark despair.

—ELEANOR A. TOTMAN.

OUCH!

Bonnie—What does it mean here in this book by "seasoned troops"?

and automobile industries combined, and labor difficulties have always been settled with justice to both sides. The railroads now pay nearly $1,000,000 a day in taxes. School taxes alone, derived from this source, educate 1,600,000 children each year.

Legislation detrimental to railroad welfare is certainly detrimental to the welfare of the entire nation. As for government ownership and operation (socialism) it is safe to say that the public, if consulted, would heartily oppose such a dangerous and un-American theory of government. Can government afford to cripple or kill its greatest taxpayers?—Industrial News Review.

WILL HE EMULATE WASHINGTON?

"Our Government is composed of three departments, Legislative, Executive and Judiciary," says Frank E. Gannett. And he proceeds to say further: "These are the foundations of our Democracy. As a result of the election and the transfer of powers by so-called emergency measures, the Executive now dominates the Legislative Department. THE PRESIDENT NOW PROPOSES ALSO TO DOMINATE THE JUDICIARY. DO WE WANT TO GIVE TO THIS MAN OR ANY ONE MAN COMPLETE CONTROL OF THESE THREE DEPARTMENTS OF OUR GOVERNMENT which have from the beginning of the Republic been kept entirely separate and independent?"

Ask the average man or woman of the 26 million who voted for Roosevelt last November this question and the answer will be what one of them gave us: "Anything Roosevelt proposes is just about right."

"This proposal," adds Mr. Gannett, "should give every American grave concern for it is a step towards absolutism and complete dictatorial power."

But it is useless to reason with people who are ripe for dictatorship. The American people abdicated their sovereignty at the November election, and our only hope seems to be that Roosevelt will emulate the illustrious example of Washington in refusing the proffered crown.

NO LONGER A "LABOR" QUESTION.

The labor situation has reached a point where it affects every citizen. The unlawful occupation of property by workers to enforce their demands, and the breakdown of our law enforcement agencies in protecting the property owner, is a new experience in the United States. It is but one step removed from revolution.

If one class of citizens can dispossess another class of the use of their property, it is only a step to take over such property permanently. We have witnessed that in Russia and Spain.

If workmen stop and think, they will see that they are destroying their own safety and liberty when they foment revolutionary practices. Thoughtful persons who have the best interests of workers at heart, can only warn them against such tactics which in the long run will lose unless government stability is destroyed—then what?—Industrial News Review.

FEDERAL TAX CAMEL MENACES STATES, WARNS GOVERNOR OF RHODE ISLAND.

Like the Arab's proverbial camel, the federal government, now with its head in the tax-text of the states through the duplicating gasoline tax which last year alone cost $186,000,000, may occupy the tent and usurp many of the taxing functions of the states, Governor Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island, asserted at the 25th annual meeting of the Rhode Island Tax Officials' Association.

"I fully believe that there are sources of revenue that should be left exclusively to the federal government, and sources which should be reserved exclusively to the states. The present tendency of duplicating and conflicting taxation is dangerous and expensive," said the governor. "I cannot conceive that it would develop to a point where the federal government might step in and levy a general property tax; but there are constitutional barriers to such a proposition? I believe the time is ripe for a trend in the opposite direction."

That same fatuity for proposing the wrong thing as a remedy for our economic and social ills that has characterized almost every proposal Roosevelt has made follows him in his effort to secure his ends by subverting the courts. FARMING does not expect perfection from any thing human. There is no more infallibility about our courts than any other mundane institution and, therefore, only their share of burdens should be thrust upon them. The legislative branch of our government is as morally duty-bound and oath-bound to obey, uphold and support the constitution as is the Judicial. The place to scotch evil is at its inception. Hence it follows that if our Constitution needs any change it should be an amendment making those legislators who pass any measure "despite any reasonable doubts as to its constitutionality" subject to "recall" by the voters or better still vacate their offices automatically. That way lies the better remedy; the Roosevelt way leads to more misery multiplied.

Of Time again
Brings us returning Spring—
Farewell, grey, cold Winter—all hail

SAN ANTONIO LIVESTOCK.

Monday, April 26, 1937.

(Federal-State Market News Serv.) Cattle receipts 900 head; calves, 900 head. Supplies were fairly liberal Monday on the San Antonio livestock market. Trading was active on early rounds. Price levels held steady to strong on most classes as compared with last week's close.

Steers and yearlings were scarce with a few short fed yearlings cashing at $7.25 to $7.50. Thin grass steers sold mostly at $5.00 to $5.50 with a few light weights up to $7.00. Good grade grass calves ranged from $7.50, down, with a few lots of fat kinds to $8.00; odd head above. Common calves sold down to $5.00 with "rannies" down to $4.00 with few sales below. Beef cows sold mostly at $4.25 to $5.50 with odd head to $6.50. Five rail loads of thin low cutter cows cashed at $2.50. Truck lots of low cutter cows brought $3.00 to $3.35. Bulls sold mostly at $5.25 and down. A load of 775 pound stocker steers brought $6.25 with a few out at $5.50. Few well bred light weight steers to $7.25. Stocker calves were strong at $5.00 to $6.25.

Hogs, 800 head. The market was active and price levels were fully steady with last week's close. A top of $9.80 was paid by all interests. The bulk of good to choice 180 to 250 pound butchers cashed at $9.50 to $9.80. Best 140 to 160 pound offerings sold mostly at $7.75 to $9.00; 160 to 180 pounds, $9.00 to $9.80; 260 to 300 pounds, around $9.25 to $9.80. Packing sows mostly $8.00 to $8.50 with a few to $8.75. Pigs cashed around $6.00 to $7.00; few cubs below.

No sheep or goats were on offer to establish a market.

The San Antonio livestock market Monday experienced the largest run of cattle and calves of any one day during the past several years. Receipts totaled more than 2400 head, including 428 cattle on through billing.

The Monday market was attended by an unusually large number of out-of-town buyers and price levels were strong on most classes despite the heavy receipts. Buyers on the market Monday were noted from such distant points as Chicago, Los Angeles, New Orleans and Houston, in addition to the approximately 50 packer and other local buyers and stockers and feeders in South and West Texas, according to Union Stock Yards Company officials.

Receipts of hogs for the first three months of the year were 40,963 head, or approximately double the number received during the same period last year.

Supplies of sheep and goats have been slightly greater than for last March and prices have been steady to strong on fat offerings, but thin kinds have sold slow and weaker.

CORN.

Corn land is different from the rest. I never could endure The scraggly hillside crop of corn Which never would mature.

I like a heavy, solid ear Which falls with meaty thump Into the wagon, shucking-time, From every cornstock clump.

You take the river-bottom ground With cackleburs and weeds, That is the kind will grow the corn To satisfy your needs.

The hillside land will bunnies raise And fodder for the stock, But it is good old bottom land That makes the farmers talk.
